Named Endowments

Established from 1952 thru 2009

The following named endowments are examples of the ways people have left a legacy long after they have gone from this world. You might like to memorialize someone who has been a great Christian disciple in your life—a family member who was a great nurturer or a friend who has taught Sunday school all of their lives.

An endowment is the gift that not only honors the person for which it was named, but the program which it supports. We hope as you read through these endowments that have been established from 1952 through 2009, noting their purpose and witness, that they will inspire you to make the gift to yourself or others through this perpetual tool.
